SUMMARY

As a passionate web developer, I have hands-on experience with WordPress, HTML, CSS, and website customization. I have a foundational understanding of JavaScript and am continually improving my skills. Currently, I am working with Next.js to build modern, responsive web applications and have also begun exploring Node.js to dive into web3 development. I am dedicated to writing clean, maintainable code, crafting user-friendly interfaces, and creating responsive designs. I am eager to bring my skills to life by contributing to impactful real-world projects.
